

A plethora of triggers can induce Oxidative Stress (OS) (6-19). Whether emotional stress, birth stress, ionizing, non-ionizing or cosmic radiation, high altitude hypoxia, as well as parasites both tropical and temperate zone. All have likely become more prevalent in the last 45 years. Our human bodies still have to deal with traditional triggers like bacterial and viral infections, as well as accidents.