MICRO WAVE NEWS

A Report on Non-Ionizing Radiation

NAS RF Workshop Scheduled

May 7, 2007

The National Academy of Sciences (NAS) has tentatively scheduled its RF workshop for August 7-9 in Washington. Its objective is to review the status of health research associated with exposure to RF radiation from wireless devices. See the NAS announcement for further information. The FDA requested the NAS review last March (see our March 30 post).

National Academy of Sciences, FDA, RF, CTIA,

© Copyright Microwave News 2003-2026. All Rights Reserved.