Brief Comment

I am hypersensitivity to Wireless or RF, and with all the mounting evidence which indicates health issues from wireless sources I urge the FCC to do what's right reevaluate their standards which haven't been reviewed since 1996. Surly with the increase of electro-smog in our atmosphere, it's time to reexamine what should be allowed. I have medical documentation which correlates to this health concern I've raised and will be pursuing litigation further in order to bring to light this gross injustice.

Regards, Rob Bland
