ABOUT HAVANA SYNDROME / AHI ANOMALOUS HEALTH INCIDENTS

Havana Syndrome, AHI (Anomalous Health Incident) is a rare condition that causes sudden, unexplained symptoms in people, often after a loud sound is beamed into the Victims head.

Some of the symptoms that have been reported include headaches, tinnitus (ringing in the ears), harassing external sounds &/or voices, vision problems, vertigo, cognitive difficulties like memory issues, dizziness, emotional distress, hearing loss, insomnia, electroshocks, Frey effect hearing," caused by pulsed microwave radiation, painful arthritic type of stiffening when Victim stands or sits for short or long periods of time.
It often begins with a perceived loud noise or pressure sensation in the head or ears, where some individuals developed brain trauma and others experienced mild to severe forms of these symptoms depending on the individual. The suspected cause is believed to be directed energy weapon(s).

DEW POLICE

334 Americans, including federal employees in the intelligence community, spies, active & inactive duty military, FBI agents, diplomats, at least 15 children also current and former staff from various other agencies, as well as their families had qualified for military health care for this condition. This number does not include those who didn't apply for treatment.

The Department of Defense (DoD) is currently researching and developing various scanning devices to detect directed energy weapons (DEWs), including high-speed, high-resolution cameras, specialized optical sensors, radar systems, and infrared imaging that can identify the unique characteristics of a DEW beam, such as its wavelength and power density, allowing for early detection and potential countermeasures. Also: RF power density meters that take measurements of radio frequency-pulsed microwave signal strength to alert authorities, staff, employees of when & where of dangerous levels.

AUDIO ANALYSIS

By AIMEE'S Audio Analysis, Ms. Amy Holem | Aimee's Audios | (815) 307-4619 | AimeesAudios@protonmail.com.

SUMMARY by Aimee's Audios:

Kimberly Colombo does have directed energy weapons that are being used to attack her body. The main type of weapon system that was discovered are a yellow and purple LASER, General Electric, and Kimberly Colombo's personal cell phone. The cell phone was connected to Kimberly Colombo's thumb, and General Electric connected to the lights where Kimberly Colombo was located while she made the recording. The group of people who are attacking Kimberly Colombo are military personnel from the US and was using radio communications through the United States Governmental channel link. The military group has connections to an Army central station, central station located in the UK, police officers (EBS), Nancy Pelosi, and Germany. The locations where the DEWs were hitting Kimberly Colombo body are the heart, lipids, nipples, knee, lungs, and head.

The military group was using V2K equipment, which uses yellow and purple lasers with vox equipment to produce lucid signals that connect to Kimberly Colombo head. The lucid signals connect to the brain creating a resonance and affect Kimberly Colombo internal body. Some form of nanotechnology is being used with the use of medical equipment connected in the DEWs. The military group was using a computer, lipid pump, and breathing tubes and made a comment about popcorn which usually correlates to a person that smokes monitoring the lungs. The US military group also connects their users to other locations and groups which a satanic group was identified during the analysis. There was another victim that was identified named Alison that is in the UK locally.

Frequencies inside of the communications systems, spectrograms:

- Highest frequency 17,085 to 17,108 hertz range
- RF Communications 15,257 hertz to 15,280 hertz
- Additional ones around 12,257 to 12,280
- Some common features inside the frequencies there's a short bursts 1,804 to 1,827 that might be a weapons system.
- Some common lines 890 to 913 might be some weapons systems
- 609 to 631 There may be some weapons systems
- Strong baseline usually from 93 to 116 hertz range
- Lowest frequency connected 70 to 92 hertz range

The following are from a voice(s) that was heard making the following statements. Also sounds, words, conversations, etc. that were captured from this VICTIM's 30 second recording analyzed by Aimee's Audios. Transcribed by DEW Police.

About AIMEE'S Audios – Ms. Amy Holem owns the company Aimee's Audios Subliminal Acoustic Fingerprint, Inc. who identifies communications within a telecommunication network. Information collected varies depending on multiple components which include the clients, recording device, time, date, when, where the recording took place, and criminal network connection. Any questions regarding her forensic process you can reach out directly to the company for answers. The information within the report is what was discovered within a COMPLIMENTARY quick analysis from the 30 second recording of the above named Victim submitted for analysis. A brief summary is provided about the information within the recording and what was identified within the 30 minute zoom meeting.

What is a quick audio analysis? It is a process of listening to sounds that are embedded in an audio recording. There is a potential of information that can be discovered from names, locations, companies, weapons, networks, aerial/space/ground units, equipment, software, IT technology, and more. A quick review is considered a written transcript of information and communications that was captured within the audio analysis. This is a written transcript of communications/statements / communications discovered.

Why can't I hear the voices, sounds that were analyzed in my 30 second recording? Because humans cannot hear sounds BELOW 20 Hz which are called infrasound and sounds, voices ABOVE 20,000 Hz called ultrasound. Infrasound can also be felt as vibrations. Normally humans can hear frequencies from 20 to 20,000 Hz.

What are Undersea Telecommunication Cables?
Undersea telecommunication cables enable consumers, businesses, and governments, including the military, to communicate with each other and to access the internet. Private and state-owned telecommunication and technology companies operate about 486 undersea telecommunication cables, which connect every continent except Antarctica. These privately owned cables carry about 99% of transoceanic digital communications (e.g., voice, data, internet), including trillions of daily international financial transactions, and serve as the backbone for the global internet.
